Civic Engagement & Service Learning Across the Disciplines

A focus on Teaching, Scholarship, and Impact

*Moderator: Judy Marquez Kiyama,
Office of the Provost and College of Education*

This event will bring together Seth Pollack and Victoria Soto, two nationally known experts, to discuss the role of civic engagement and service learning in university education. The event will help set the stage for novel cross-disciplinary explorations among UArizona faculty about the content, form, and relevance of service learning and civic engagement in higher education teaching and learning, both now and in the years ahead. To enable the sharing of knowledge across disciplines within the University of Arizona, a panel of faculty discussants from four different colleges will address how issues highlighted by Soto and Pollack have synergies with efforts, goals, or vision on our campus.
