Inside UA-Funded Scholarship

Enhancing Pedagogy with Data-Driven Learning: Student Writing as the Site and Source for Instructional Change

Featuring Shelley Staples, CUES Distinguished Fellow, Associate Professor of English, and Associate Professor of Second Language Acquisition/Teaching – GIDP, this hybrid seminar and panel will bring you inside a CUES funded project and unpack its relevance for catalyzing the practice of innovative teaching and learning at the University of Arizona.

Panelists:

• Mahmoud Azaz, CUES Distinguished Fellow; Associate Professor, School of Middle Eastern & North African Studies; College of Social & Behavioral Sciences

• Vignesh Subbian, CUES Distinguished Fellow; Assistant Professor, Biomedical Engineering; Assistant Professor, Systems and Industrial Engineering; College of Engineering

Prospective CUES Distinguished Fellows are encouraged to attend.

Friday, December 3, 2021 | 11:00AM – 12:15PM (AZ Time)

Environment and Natural Resources 2 (ENR2) Building
Room S107 (Ground Level, Southwest Corner)
1064 E. Lowell St., Tucson, AZ 85719

Please register to join in-person or online.

Please contact jkkalnins@arizona.edu with any questions.