Belonging in Arizona and Beyond: Archives, Narrative, and Border Identities

February 23, 12-1 pm
Dr. Anita Huizar-Hernandez
Associate Professor, Department of Spanish and Portuguese
University of Arizona

Anita Huizar-Hernández is Associate Professor of Border Studies in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese at the University of Arizona. Born and raised in Arizona, Huizar-Hernández’s teaching and research focus on the literatures and cultures of the U.S.-Mexico borderlands and investigate the ways that stories—past, present, and future—shape our ability to cultivate just and inclusive communities within the borderlands.

In spring 2022, WSIP will launch the Academic Writing in the Borderlands initiative for undergraduate and graduate students. Our goal is to help students deepen their understanding of academic writing conventions and develop their awareness of what it means to be an academic scholar and researcher working from and in the Borderlands. We are honored to welcome three distinguished researchers to join us in our Speaker Series. Attendance at the online sessions is free and open to the public, but registration is required. Register online or visit https://wsip.arizona.edu/program/graduate-writing-institute.
